RE: New MRI Scanner

We are now scheduling patients for the February 8th start-up date of our new Siemens MRI scanner. In addition to conventional neuro and orthopedic imaging, we will now be able to offer high-resolution “small parts” orthopedic imaging (feet, ankles, elbows, hands and wrists) as well as expand body MRI services to include conventional multiplanar imaging of the chest, abdomen and pelvis, and magnetic resonance cholangiopancreatography.

Currently, we are unable to provide MR imaging of the breast.
